SANTO DOMINGO.

Diplomacy Extraordinary—Hayti Warned by the United States to be Neutral Toward Santo Domingo.

Communications from United States officials, referring to the pending negotiations with Santo Domingo, and warning Hayti to remain neutral, have been published in the Haytien journals, and excited a great deal of unpleasant comment. Translations of several of these documents have been received. The first is a letter from Admiral Poor to the Provisional President of Hayti:—

To President Saget, Provisional President Republic Hayti:

Sir:—The undersigned avails himself of the arrival in this port, of the Severn, flagship of the United States North Atlantic squadron, to inform your Excellency that he has received instructions from his Government to inform your Excellency that negotiations are now pending between the United States Government and the Government of Santo Domingo, and that during such negotiations the United States Government is determined to use all its power to prevent any meddling on the part of Hayti or any other power with the Dominican Government. Therefore, any interference with, or attack on the Dominicans by ships under the Haytien flag, or any other flag, during the said negotiations, will be considered an act of hostility to the United States flag, and will provoke hostilities in return. I have, etc.,

C. H. POOR, Rear-Admiral, etc.

Port-au-Prince, Feb. 10, 1871.

United States Consul Gautier addresses General Nord Alexis in the following terms:—

General:—A large majority of the Dominican people have asked through their representatives to be annexed to the United States; and the negotiations with that view have been entered into and still continue. A commission has been appointed to go to Santo Domingo and make a careful examination, when all who are opposed to annexation will again have an opportunity to make themselves heard. In the meantime the United States have engaged to protect the legitimate Government of the Dominican Republic—that of President Baez—against all intervention from outside, and to fulfil this engagement the United States will even use force, if other means prove inefficient. The Haytien Government has been duly cautioned, and has promised to preserve a strict neutrality.

Consul Gautier proceeds to point out the movements of General Luperon and his associates, and continues:—

"I do not wish to say by this that the authorities at Cape Haytien are secretly aiding the Dominican insurgents, although it is known to every one that General Luperon is in friendly relations with them, and that they have accorded him long interviews; but I desire to warn the authorities here, fearing that their sympathies, by leading them to exceed the limits of their duties, may not only alienate the good feeling of the United States towards the Haytien Government, but may occasion grave complications which may still be avoided by prudence."

General Nord, in reply, says:—

"I have already been ordered by my Government to preserve the strictest neutrality regarding the affairs of the Dominican quarter."

Minister Bassett addressed the following letters to the Haytien Secretary of State:—

To the Hon. T. Rameau, Secretary of State.

Sir:—I have the honor to inform you that negotiations are pending between the United States and President Baez of the Dominican Republic; and I am instructed by my Government to make known to the Haytien Government that it will regard with decided disfavor all attempts made (no matter by whom) to disturb the peace or interfere in the internal affairs of the neighboring Dominican Republic during these negotiations.

I respectfully ask that you will, without delay, direct the attention of your Government to these instructions from my Government, and I express the hope that the Government and people of Hayti will be encouraged to preserve the strictest neutrality in regard to the internal affairs of the Dominican Republic, and that they shall use their influence to prevent the occurrence of any incident arising from the revolutionary state of this island, calculated to affect in the least degree the interests of the United States, as well as the amity existing between Hayti and the United States. I have, etc.,

EBENEZER D. BASSETT.

United States Legation, Port-au-Prince, Jan. 10, 1870.

This letter was replied to by Secretary Rameau, when Minister Bassett answered as follows:—

Sir:—I thank you for your letter of the 21st ult., in reply to mine of an earlier date, inviting your Government to observe strict neutrality in the internal affairs of Santo Domingo, and I shall experience much pleasure in informing the United States Government of the friendly spirit in which you have received the notification of its wish and of its expectation in this particular circumstance.

But, nevertheless, it would be more satisfactory and more agreeable to my Government and myself, if, when writing in the name of your Government, you felt yourself authorized to give the assurance of neutrality asked and expected by the United States

Since the receipt of your despatch we have heard, from sources worthy of consideration, reports which, supposing them to be reasonably exact, may give rise to serious embarrassments, in the absence of any assurance of neutrality on the part of your Government. I shall not insist on the accuracy of these reports. I will mention only, that your Consul at Kingston, Jamaica, is known to be well informed respecting certain schemes of intervention in the affairs of Santo Domingo, and that he and your Consul at Curacoa are accused of masking and protecting, or being ready to mask and protect, by means of their official position, projects of the character indicated. It has also come to our knowledge that certain other persons propose to disturb the internal peace of Santo Domingo under cover of the Haytien flag.

In the absence of a declaration of a neutral policy on the part of your Government relative to the internal affairs of Santo Domingo, the United States, despite its wish to the contrary, may find cause of dissatisfaction when, from well-informed authorities, we receive reports which lead the Government to fear that the Haytien Government may be compromised by her citizens and representatives, who, so far as we know, have received no notice from their Government to observe that neutrality which my Government, in cordial amity, much desires and counts upon you to see observed. I have, etc.

EBENEZER D. BASSETT.

U. S. Legation, Port-au-Prince, Feb. 9, 1871.

The Port-au-Prince Civilisateur, February 16, in the course of a long article, thus complains of alleged acts of intimidation on the part of United States officials:—

"The promoters of the annexation project, in order to secure its success, have sought to exercise a system of complete though disguised coercion. It is first the commander of a ship of war who arrives at Jacmel to inform the military governor there that he must be quiet (coi) during the annexation negotiations or unpleasant consequences would follow. This was done without the least care for our national sovereignty or interests, which, feeble as we are, are nevertheless entitled to respect. Next, a diplomatic agent, regularly accredited in a form half fawning and half menacing, renews the same invitation. Then a naval officer presents himself to the Chief of State, himself, to reiterate the same injunction, accompanied this time by a monitor of fifteen guns, as if to show the penalties which would be incurred by any deviation from the policy which he invited the President to adopt. Now, it is a simple consular officer of the second class who believes it his duty to play his part in the affair.

"Now, how can these acts be reconciled with the solemn statements made to the men of principle in the United States Congress, in order to calm their first suspicions, that only the truth is sought in the Santo Domingo question, and that only honest representations would be acted upon. Are not Cabral, Luperon, Pimental, Hongria, Gomez, and many others like them, Dominicans? If they desire to make themselves heard, why, if truth alone is sought, are so many precautions taken to suppress the expression of their sentiments? The resolve to annex, when it really exists, implies a determination on the part of the annexationists too strong to require as support schemes unworthy of a power guided only by goodwill, truth, and justice."

THE "COMMISSION" BILLS.

Who is Engineering Them.

A Harrisburg despatch to the New York Tribune says:—

It appears that Pennsylvania Democrats have been looking to New York city for counsel in their doings. A committee, largely composed of Philadelphians, visited New York last July, and were received by Tweed, who gave them some insight into his means of victory. The ensuing election was not a Democratic success, and they again sought their adviser. They were assured of the efficacy of gold. When the present legislative session began the movers commenced sounding the members. When all was ready a bill substantially identical in form and feature to that providing for the Government of New York was brought forward in behalf of Philadelphia, and by the aid of a few Republican votes consigned to the Committee on Corporations. The committee deliberated upon the measure, but dared not report.

The Speaker of the House, learning that tangible arguments had been brought to bear upon the committee, added four men of undoubted backbone to the committee, and lo! it was found there was but one majority against the scheme. It would not be adding material point to this narrative to give names. Here men who were offered from $1000 to $3000 are neither scarce nor backward in avowing it. Since the defeat of the bill, a unique telegraphic correspondence has passed between the abject Pennsylvanians and their indignant New York mentor, whose last vehement command was to "pay more money and carry the thing—you know how it is yourself." In a new shape and with more money, it is openly declared, the bill must sooner or later become a law. "What!" said a coal monarch, "do they think we have money just to make us rich? Not much. We mean to rule, as well as control this big State, and when things work just right, money will make majorities wherever we want them."

The Mayor and Mayoress of Southampton will give a grand ball on the evening of Tuesday next. The officers of the United States corvette Shenandoah at Southampton have received invitations.

The Black Sea Question.

LONDON, March 17.—The protocols of the proceedings on the Black Sea question will be laid on the table of the House of Commons to-night. They are signed by the plenipotentiaries of the seven powers represented. Their general features are of a on the part of Russia, willingness on the part of Turkey to accept a deneutralization of the Black Sea, and a deference of the conference to the wishes of either power. On January 17 Lord Granville was chosen President. Lord Granville regretted the absence of the plenipotentiary from France, and declared that the object of the conference was to examine the Black Sea question without partisanship, and to discuss with perfect liberty the Russian proposals for a revision of the treaty of Paris.

Baron Brunnow Made a Statement which contained no trace of the imperative tone of Prince Gortschakoff's circular. Baron Brunnow's speech was most conciliatory throughout, and was responded to in the same spirit by Mausouros Pasha. The conference then went to work on the declaration to the effect that the plenipotentiaries recognize it as the essential principle of the

that no power can shake off the engagement of a treaty or modify its stipulations, except with the consent of the contracting parties. This friendly understanding was arrived at, and on March 13 the Duc de Broglie gave his adhesion to it. A second meeting took place January 24, when Baron Brunnow stated that changes had taken place since 1865, and that by new considerations arising in the interval. He contended that the treaty of Paris really perpetuated irritations by wounding the Russian national sentiment.

The Turkish Ambassador combatted the arguments of the Russian Ambassador, and declared that Turkey was fully satisfied with the treaty, but if the other powers thought it right to admit on that Government, and would give guarantees equivalent and compatible with the rights and security of the Ottoman Empire, he was authorized to concur. The other plenipotentiaries, while recognizing the justice of the Turkish objections, adhered to their former expression that the Turkish consent must be a condition of equivalents. At the third sitting February 3d, on the treaty four articles were proposed by Earl Granville. The second article gave to Turkey the power to introduce ships of war of the powers into the Black Sea only, if compelled to do so for the security of the Ottoman empire. Monsouros Pasha objected to the phrase non-riverain as restrictive to Turkey and offensive to Russia.

The Russian Demand

A Long Debate

generally in opposition followed, the representative of the Turkish Government pleading his instructions as very peremptory. At the same meeting the secondary questions of was first mooted, and it was agreed to insert arrangements therefor in the principal treaty, at the fourth meeting of February 7. No instructions had been received by the plenipotentiaries, and nothing was done.

At the fifth meeting, which was held on the 13th inst., the Duc de Broglie was introduced. He declared that the French Government saw no sufficient reason to modify the treaty of Paris, but it now willingly accepted the arrangements which had been partially concluded.

The Italian Minister met the objection of the Turkish Minister by proposing a new article, in which the words were substituted for "non-riverain powers." This amendment was accepted freely by Turkey and the other powers. There were no differences on the other articles. After their completion the Turkish and Russian plenipotentiaries announced they had been authorized to conclude a convention abrogating the stipulations of the treaty of Paris relative to the number and strength of their respective fleets in the Black Sea.

Revision of United States Statutes.

Despatch to the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Benjamin Vaughn Abbott and Victor C. Barringer, two of the commissioners selected to revise the statutes of the United States, have addressed a letter to the chairmen of the committees of the two houses of Congress on that subject, giving a history of the progress of the work. They are desirous to ascertain the decision of Congress as to the completion of the work. If the time designated in the act of May 4th, 1870, three years, is to be adhered to, they advise the increase of the commission to five instead of three, as at present. They are convinced that it is not possible for the three commissioners to complete the work in the time specified, but that it can be done with additional aid, and increased attention to the lapse of time and the necessity for expedition, if the committees of Congress were to give a definite expression of opinion that the revision should and must be completed within the term of three years without contemplating an extension.

FROM THE WEST.

Tennessee Legislature.

MEMPHIS, March 18.—A special despatch to the Avalanche, from Little Rock, Ark., says:—In the House yesterday, a bill was introduced to provide for filling the office of Governor in case of a vacancy. It provides that the President pro tem. of the Senate shall become Governor, and if there is none, then the Speaker of the House.

The Senate assembled at 1 o'clock as a high court of impeachment, acting Chief Justice Whylock presiding. A communication was received from Chief Justice McClure acknowledging service, saying he was ready for trial. Counsel for respondent submitted a general demurrer to the articles of impeachment, after which the court adjourned till Monday, when argument will be had on the demurrer. Of course it will be sustained and the defendant released.

Governor Clayton Sent in his Resignation to the House this morning, announcing that he had turned over the books and papers of his office to the President pro tem. of the Senate. Clayton leaves for Washington to-morrow. Hadley was sworn in this evening and entered on the discharge of his duties as Governor. About three years ago he was a merchant and failed, took the benefit of the Bankrupt law, and has been in the State five years. When the Reconstruction bill passed he entered into politics as a radical, succeeding in being elected Senator from this district. He was one of the strongest advocates of the Funding bill passed by the last Legislature, and is said to have made a good thing of it. He is now well off. Before Clayton resigned he signed near a thousand commissions for friends who had been provided for, among them Speaker Tankersley, as Superintendent of the Penitentiary at Jackson, Tenn.

PENNSYLVANIA STATE ITEMS.

Failure of the Pittsburg "Paper"—Why Its Backers Failed to Respond.

The Commercial also has the following:—

For a considerable time past it has been known that the Paper, the new Democratic journal in this city, was in extremity, and its cessation, or at least suspension, has been confidently expected. The new journal did not appear to-day, and it will probably not appear to-morrow, or the next day.

It is not four months since the paper was started. It was to have command of unlimited pecuniary resources. New York capitalists "backed" it, and "solid" men here subscribed to its stock, the subscriptions ranging from $20,000 to a few hundred dollars each. But presently it was found that "backing" and subscriptions did not always imply the payment of money. Money from New York, if any had been promised, was not forthcoming. The stock company, we believe, has not been fully incorporated, and the subscribers for the most part were worse than backward in honoring their subscriptions. So the movers of the enterprise, who had expended ready resources lavishly at first, found themselves with plenty of splendid material, a fine press, and the most elegantly furnished office in the city, on their hands, and not the means at command to pay salaries or paper bills.

From reliable sources we ascertain that the total expenditures during the brief existence of the enterprise aggregate sixty-five thousand dollars. Among their liabilities is one of $3200 to the Pittsburg Paper Manufacturing Company, while other evidences of indebtedness in the way of notes are held by several of our banking institutions. The employes also have claims against the establishment for wages remaining unpaid.

THE PROTEST.

A Memorial to the Legislature about the Commission Bills.

The following is a copy of the memorial prepared by the committee appointed at the recent town meeting, and is being extensively circulated for signatures, before it is sent to Harrisburg:—

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of Pennsylvania:—The undersigned, citizens and tax payers of the city of Philadelphia, do most earnestly remonstrate and protest against the passage of the bills lately submitted to the House of Representatives, known as "the Commission bills," and do respectfully assign for cause of our remonstrance and protest:—

First, That the effect of these acts will be to hand over for five years the city and its wealth, its business, its manufactures, and its destiny, to the keeping and absolute management of a few commissioners and their swarms of agents, contractors, and officers, without accountability to the people of Philadelphia, or to their chosen representatives in Councils.

Second. Because the people whose millions are to be expended, and whose property is to be controlled by these commissioners, have no voice in their appointment, and have no control over their acts.

Third. Because these acts empower the commissioners to compel Councils to levy any rate of taxation the commissioners may think fit, which is taxation without representation, thus striking a blow at the most cherished principles of republican government.

Fourth. Because these acts will open the door to the most stupendous corruption which may ensue from the wholesale transfer to irresponsible commissioners of the control of the public expenditures.

Fifth. Because these acts sweep away our ancient privileges and long enjoyed municipal franchises, and launch our city with all its hopes and destinies upon unknown and dangerous seas.

Sixth. Because these bills are sought to be passed without a single petition to the Legislature in their favor from the people whom they are to affect; their authors not daring publicly to advocate them, but issuing anonymous communications to mislead the people and to cover up iniquitous schemes, we have a just right to believe and to infer that their end and design is to enrich themselves at the public expense, and, with the vast funds under their control, to perpetuate their tenure of office.

Seventh. Because the passage of these bills would deprive us of all voice in our municipal government, would violate the cardinal principles of American liberty, "that governments are instituted among men deriving their just power from the consent of the governed," and would virtually declare and adjudge us incapable of self-government.

For these reasons, and many others, which we are not now able more specifically to set forth, the undersigned do most earnestly submit this their remonstrance and protest, and they will ever pray.

PENN TREATY.

Probable Purchase of the Monument and the Grounds by the City.

The Penn Treaty Monument, and the plot of ground from the centre of which it rises, are in a neglected condition that does not speak well of our regard for this memorable spot. The monument, which consists of a square shaft of granite tapering towards the top, and resting on a granite base, was placed upon this spot by a Society of Friends, having first obtained permission of its owner, a Mr. Vandusen, for so doing. In 1852 the Legislature passed a bill for the purchase of the site of the Old Elm, but from some disagreement arising in the assessment of damages, the project suddenly dropped out of consideration. Meanwhile the mischievous youths of Beach street made it a target to shoot at, and destroyed the fences about it, while the relic hunters, who happened to discover it hidden behind piles of lumber and rubbish, chipped off pieces from the granite column for mementoes. Councils have at last come to consider the propriety of buying up this property and preserving the monument from total obliteration. A sub-committee of the Committee on Property will recommend its purchase. But there is an objection that perhaps may not be overcome. The owner will not sell the plot on which the shaft stands unless taken with all the tract of land he there owns, covering an area of 85 by 300 feet. For this he asks $58,000, and will dispose of the whole or nothing. The monument bears upon its faces these inscriptions:—

Treaty Ground of Wm. Penn and the Indian Nations, 1682. Unbroken Faith.	Wm. Penn, Born 1644. Died 1718.	Placed by the Penn Society to mark the site of the Great Elm Tree.	Pennsylvania Founded 1681, By deeds of Peace.

Mr. Van Dusen, who is an aged man, declares that the exact site of the Great Elm, which was blown down on the 3d of March, 1810, is 30 feet southeast of the monument.

HOW IT WAS DONE.

The Robberies at Tenth and Market Streets—A Virtuous Bootblack.

A few days ago we announced that a robbery had been perpetrated at the clothing store of Messrs. Mahlon Bryan & Co., at Tenth and Market streets, by which that firm lost $1000 of their stock. Through the perseverance of Detective Fletcher, the modus operandi of the affair has been brought to light, and one of the offenders has been taken in custody.

It will be remembered that over this store, on the second floor, is a gilder's room, and back of it a billiard-room. Four weeks ago last Saturday night, while a little bootblack named William Brown was engaged in putting away the cues and balls (for which he was employed), two men, one of them named John Glazier, aged about 30, entered and went to playing billiards. They then sent Brown out for 50 cents worth of oysters, and having eaten these, they told the little fellow that they would lie down and take a nap. The lad also was soon asleep.

When he awoke he saw the two worthies looking through the door into the billiard-room and then retreat. He followed them and discovered that they had pried open the door leading into the gilder's room with a jimmy, and was astonished when he followed them to a closet that they had taken up the boards of the floor. They said to Brown, "We will kick away the plastering and then you can see into the clothing store. Will you go down? We want only the ready-made clothing. We can wear it out on our own backs, so that it will not be noticed. You will make $100 by the job." To which proposition he promptly returned "No, I won't." Glazier and his partner then cautioned Brown not to say a word about it, and replaced the boards, and retreated from the gilder's room into the billiard-room, carrying with them a number of picture frames. Brown told them they shouldn't stay in the building any longer, and they left. On last Saturday night the store was robbed of $1000 worth of ready-made clothing, the robbers having entered through the gilder's room, torn up the floor in the closet, and let themselves down by means of a rope. For complicity in this crime Glazier was arrested, and this afternoon will have a hearing.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

Percy Spear's Case.

United States District Court—Judge Cadwalader.

In the case of Percival B. Spear, convicted of forging a bond in $25,000, Judge Cadwalader this morning overruled the motion for a new trial, and said he would pronounce sentence on Saturday next.

Alleged Infanticide.

Court of Quarter Sessions—Judge Ludlow.

Judge Ludlow to-day heard upon habeas corpus the case of Dr. Lewis A. Hall and his wife, at whose house the child of Rose Kelley was born, and who were charged with having caused its death. The Judge discharged Mrs. Hall at once, and held the case as to the Doctor under advisement.

William Hart.

Court of Quarter Sessions—Judge Peirce.

The Court is to-day still engaged with the trial of William Hart upon the charge of stealing carpet from Godley's bonded warehouse, which we reported yesterday. The defense allege an alibi, and argue that the carpets were left by thieves at Hart's shop during his absence and without his knowledge. The case has not been concluded.

Desertion Cases.

His Honor Judge Finletter sat in the Grand Jury room to-day to dispose of desertion cases presented by Solicitor Seltzer.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

EVENING TELEGRAPH OFFICE,
Saturday, March 18, 1871.

There is an entire absence of animation in financial circles to-day, owing to the disagreeable weather rendering outside operations extremely unpleasant. Trade is in the same dull condition, and hence speculation and regular business movements are temporarily retarded. Rates, under these circumstances, are somewhat easier both on call and time contracts. We quote at 5@6 per cent. on good collaterals, and at 7@8 per cent. on acceptable mercantile paper having three or four months to run.

Gold is exceedingly quiet and decidedly weak, the premium continuing steady at 111⅛.

In Government bonds there is generally a steady feeling, but a small portion of the list shows a fractional decline.

Stocks were very dull and rather weak. Sales of State 6s, 1st series, at 103½; and City 6s, new bonds, at 101¼.

Reading Railroad was neglected but steady at 51. Sales of Pennsylvania at 61⅜; Lehigh Valley at 59¾; and Oil Creek and Alleghany at 48 for small lots. 44½ was bid for Little Schuylkill, and 40½ for Catawissa preferred.

The balance of the list was quiet, with sales of Mechanics' Bank at 32¼ and Manufacturers do. at 29½. No Canal shares were disposed of.

THE NEW UNITED STATES LOAN.

From the N. Y. Tribune.

This loan must be made a success. Possibly it may be found expedient by a future act of Congress to raise the rate of interest to five per cent. upon the entire amount. This can be determined only by testing the markets of the United States and of Europe. As the new bonds will be free from local and national taxation, which, taken together, will not in most of our cities amount to less than two per cent., the interest derived from the five per cent. bonds will be equivalent to that which is derived from seven per cent. bonds if subject to such taxation. If the income tax, which is at present less than one-half of one per cent. of the interest, should be removed, yet the local taxation, amounting to not less than one and one-half per cent., will remain, and in that case the five per cent. untaxed loan will pay the same net interest to the holder as a six and one-half per cent. loan would pay if subject only to local taxes. This rate of interest will insure the ultimate absorption of these five per cent. bonds by banks, insurance offices, and by capitalists who seek a secure and permanent investment of trust funds here and abroad.

That the United States are amply able to pay the public debt, and have given to the world the most solemn pledge that it shall be fully and faithfully paid, no one can doubt who is acquainted with the state of public opinion, or with the Constitution itself, which provides that the obligations of the United States shall not be impaired, while on the other hand the debt incurred in maintaining the Rebellion shall not be assumed or paid, either by the States individually or by the nation.

There is but one danger to which the public was formerly exposed. It was discovered in the early years of the war, and has been more fully developed by later experience. Formerly it was the practice of the Treasury Department to manufacture the public securities at Washington by persons employed in the Printing Bureau, and the result of this experiment was not satisfactory to the Treasury Department, to Congress, or to those who were interested in Government issues. It was so obviously subject to great abuse that it was condemned by the joint investigating committee of the House and Senate, in their ample report of March 3, 1869, and by the report of the Hon. George S. Boutwell, Secretary of the Treasury, who stated, in substance, that for the purpose of giving the highest degree of security against a repetition of the unfortunate irregularities disclosed in the committee report, he had adopted the plan which had been also sanctioned by that committee, namely, to have all the Treasury securities so prepared as to require at least three imprints upon every piece of paper; one to be made by one bank note engraving company, of unquestioned responsibility; a second imprint to be made by another of such companies—both of which should be wholly disconnected with the Treasury Department, and in a different city; and the last imprint to be made by the Printing Bureau in the Treasury at Washington. All paper to be used was to be manufactured at still a third and distant point, to be delivered under special safeguards, and to be of a peculiar character. The paper manufacturer and the two companies thus became guards upon each other and upon the employes in the Printing Bureau, and the Printing Bureau a guard over them, and thus all probable chances of over-issues, duplications, or other fraud seemed avoided. This plan of manufacturing the Government securities, which, as stated in his official report, has been adopted by the Secretary of the Treasury, has met with the approbation of all financial men who are acquainted with the subject, and has justly secured among capitalists a feeling of confidence that there is now little danger of their waking up some years hence to find their vaults filled with false or duplicate bonds, which might be repudiated by the Government, though printed from genuine plates and issued from its Printing Bureau. Some rumors have been started of late that the Secretary proposes to abandon this plan of manufacturing the new bonds, and to return to the scheme which experience has proved so disastrous. We do not credit them, for i is not probable that Mr. Boutwell will act contrary to the assurances he has given to the public in his report, or that he will, for any cause, endanger the success of his new loan by diminishing confidence in the safety of his bonds.

THE TRUE COMPROMISE BETWEEN THE TWO WINGS OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

From the N. Y. Times.

The recent votes of the House on the duties upon coal and salt must convince many Republicans of the fact we urged so strongly and frequently more than a year ago—that the moderate party on the tariff question is extremely strong throughout the country. It is all very well for the Pennsylvania Republicans to seek to bolster up their local interests to an extreme degree, or, on the other hand, for the ultra free-traders of Missouri and the West to air their theories for universal free-trade and direct taxation. The nation at large favors neither of these ultraisms. The people know, whatever they may think of the abstract benefit of free trade, that the interest on the debt and the sums towards its redemption must be paid from indirect taxation, and that no form of this burden is so little felt as the duties of a tariff. Undoubtedly, in a purely abstract view, the most just and sound method of taxation is the direct one; but practically the people will not bear it, and they pay most easily what they do not know to be paid to the tax-gatherer.

Taxes in this country must always be indirect. And as the consumption by this nation of luxuries will always include a vast amount of products of foreign countries, these imports will always form the favorite object of taxation. The vast and increasing agricultural districts of the country, or the commercial cities, such as New York, do not desire to have all their greatest necessities in production burdened with duties because certain monopolies in the Central and Eastern States claim a bountiful protection from the Government. Even New England has mainly abandoned her former demand for high protective tariffs. With this strong party in the West and East supporting a revenue tariff, there will soon appear an ally in the South, whose interest must always be in low duties. The result is what we predicted more than a year ago, that the medium tariff party, being able on many points to include from 40 to 100 Democratic votes in Congress, and holding a strong position in the Republican party, will substantially control the balance of power on this question in both houses of Congress.

If the monopolists and high-protective wing will only regard this fact reasonably, and act accordingly, it will benefit the whole Republican party, both now and in the future Presidential election. Let them give up the effort to protect monopolies any further; let them abandon high duties, and suffer iron and coal and wool and lumber to take their chance on a moderate revenue tax, or with no Government aid at all. Their constituents have either sufficiently enriched themselves, or they have proved to the whole people that these interests cannot float without an assistance from the Government which is a public burden. Let the monopolist wing now yield to the inevitable, and accept a carefully-framed revenue tariff.

If, however, they are obstinate, and obstruct every moderate reform in the tariff because they cannot sufficiently protect their own interest, there is imminent danger of a worse thing coming upon them, and upon the country. There is undoubtedly a body of the Democrats who would see with indifference the repudiation of the national debt, and would hail such a lightening of the customs duties as would practically prevent the payment of the interest, and entirely shut out any possibility of ever meeting the principal. If the revenue reformers were rendered desperate, they might be driven into a serious revolt from the national party, and, with the Democrats and the South, sweep away the most important portions of even a revenue tariff, and put a Democratic administration in Washington on the basis of low taxes and repudiation. We do not suppose for a moment that the present Republican "revenue reformers," who include some of the most honored and intelligent members of the party, propose or aim at such a disastrous culmination of their efforts. We only warn the monopolist and the ultra protectionist that such a fruit of their selfish policy is among the possibilities. Let them in time govern their course accordingly, and abandon extreme claims which the country will not sanction.

The true compromise between the wings of the Republican party is the formation of a committee of moderate views, who shall frame for the next session a medium revenue tariff, with sole and exclusive reference to lightening the burdens of taxation, and at the same time raising revenue enough to meet all the demands of the Treasury. Under such a tariff they could go before the country in the next Presidential election, and carry everything before them. The nation at large neither want monopoly nor repudiation. The medium course will be the reasonable and popular one.

BUTLER IN HOT WATER.

From the N. Y. World.

An eel in the well-sanded fist of a kitchen maid, who holds the snake-like squirmer tight and applies the knife to take off its skin, is not quite an image of felicity; and yet the eel might be congratulated by its brother the lobster, dropped alive into scalding water and remorselessly boiled from black to red. If Butler had succeeded in introducing his Ku-klux bill his torments would have been like those of the unskinned eel in the well-sanded hand of relentless Biddy; but he has escaped that form of agony by being dropped at once into the boiling kettle. Read the proceedings in the House of Representatives on Thursday. Butler could not have been more unhappy if he had been tossed by his fellow-members into a caldron of burning pitch.

Before the New Hampshire election it seemed a settled thing that Congress would not adjourn without passing a strong Ku-klux bill. This was understood to be the main reason for extending the session. It was at first given out that General Grant would send in a special message urging such legislation. The Republican newspaper organs sounded forth their preludes, the heaving, deep-lunged bellows of the Tribune reverberating its hoarsest bass. It was said, and sung, and shouted, and bellowed, as if all the bulls of Bashan and the cattle on a thousand hills had joined in the chorus, that the one indispensable duty of Congress, before it adjourned, was to pass a good, tough, retributive act, which could not be "chawed up" by the terrible Ku-klux. What an opportunity for the irrepressible Butler! A flood-tide of Republican sentiment seemed moving and swelling in one direction, and he had only to be the first in launching his bark to float it, covered all over with pennants and streamers, into the harbor of a secure popularity. Happy, happy Butler!

> "As wild his thoughts and gay of wing
> As Eden's garden bird."

To be sure, he had competitors in this race for popularity. Half a score of treason-scenting, popularity-hunting Radicals busied themselves in drafting Ku-klux bills; but Butler's superior alertness, dexterity, sinewy English, and hatred of the South, eclipsed his competitors. His bill was preferred and indorsed by a caucus of the Republican members of the House, and was under discussion in a caucus of the Republican Senators. Butler seemed the rising demagogue, the man skilled to float on "a tide in the affairs of men which taken at the flood leads on to fortune," when, all of a sudden, the New Hampshire election falls upon Congress like a thunder-clap. The tide had swiftly receded, and poor Butler was left a stranded hulk upon the beach. A New England man, aspiring to be the New England leader, he was flung overboard by New England influence. Speaker Blaine drew, and Mr. Peters, of Maine, offered, the resolution which ripped open the balloon in which Butler was mounting to the clouds, and dropped him, without a parachute to break his fall, upon the stony ground. The New Hampshire election had taught the Representatives from the adjacent State of Maine a little wisdom, and New England deserted and humiliated Butler at the very moment when he supposed that all the New England members would be a tail to his mounting kite. There will be no Ku-klux bill passed this session, and Grant, Butler, Greeley, and company "hide their diminished heads." There is now some hope that the disgusted Republicans will consent to an early adjournment, which is the best thing they can do to spare the pride of General Grant. His Santo Domingo scheme is a wreck now, and his friends, if he has any, should take pity on him and save him from the mortification of an adverse vote by Congress. By December other subjects will occupy public attention, and during the summer the Santo Domingo job will die a quiet natural death, whereas if it were brought to a vote at this session, on the heels of the New Hampshire election, the President would be again put to open shame.

Butler's ill-temper and rabid abuse of his fellow-Republicans show from what a height he has fallen. But he retains something of his wonted cunning. Seeing that Grant is deserted and repudiated by New England, Butler turns against him too, and flouts the influence at "the other end of the avenue." Nay, in his published card he espouses the cause of Sumner, and awkwardly insinuates that he considers him an injured man, although it is notorious that Sumner was deposed and degraded in subserviency to General Grant's wishes. This shows how ready Butler is to throw off the mask and cease to be Grant's parasite, as soon as Grant is deserted by fortune.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO INVESTORS.

A Choice Security.

We are now able to supply a limited amoun of the

Catawissa Railroad Company's

7 PER CENT.

CONVERTIBLE MORTGAGE BONDS,

FREE OF STATE AND UNITED STATES TAX.

They are issued for the sole purpose of building the extension from MILTON TO WILLIAMSPORT, a distance of 30 miles, and are secured by a lien on the entire road of nearly 100 miles, fully equipped and doing a flourishing business.

When it is considered that the entire indebtedness of the Company will be less than $16,000 per mile, leaving out their Valuable Coal Property of 1900 acres, it will be seen at once what an unusual amount of security is attached to these bonds, and they therefore must commend themselves to the most prudent investors. An additional advantage is, that they can be converted, at the option of the holder, after 15 years, into the Preferred Stock, at par.

They are registered Coupon Bonds (a great safeguard), issued in sums of $500 and $1000. Interest payable February and August.

Price 99½ and accrued interest, leaving a good margin for advance.

THE EFFECTS OF ALCOHOL ON THE HUMAN SYSTEM.—Alcohol forms no part of the living body, and when taken into the stomach is rapidly absorbed, or rather permeates the membranes and the coats of the blood-vessels, and finds its way into the blood, with which it forms no homogeneous mixture, but, alien-like, is hurried along in the circulation, to be eliminated, in great part, as speedily as possible, that which is retained producing very equivocal effects, and in many instances painful and fatal diseases. It escapes by the way of the lungs, as shown in the breath of those who have been drinking ardent spirits or strong wines, and also by the skin and kidneys. That portion of the alcohol which is retained in the body accumulates most readily in the brain and liver, and it has been found in its pure state after death in these organs, especially in the brain. The first manifest effects of an alcoholic liquor are on the brain and nervous system generally, on which it acts, in a small dose, as an excitant, and in a larger one as a narcotic. Other parts are affected in a corresponding manner, being at first stimulated, not strengthened, and afterwards retarded and weakened in their action.

For example, the heart, that wonderful and, during life, never-ceasing pump, when its inner surface is reached by the tide of blood containing alcohol, works away so much the faster to get rid of the intruder; in so doing its machinery is needlessly strained, and if this be continued from day to day is more apt to be deranged and sooner worn out. Under the operation of the prolonged use of alcoholic liquors the heart often becomes hypertrophied or morbidly thickened, and at other times dilated and thinner in its substance; or a still worse condition supervenes—its muscular texture is converted into fatty matter, and it fails to contract with the requisite force and regularity, and is liable at any moment to cease beating. In this sudden cessation of the heart's action is found an explanation of some of the sudden deaths of which we read. These destructive effects of the use of alcoholic liquors are not by any means confined to drunkards; they are seen in persons who had never been intoxicated during their lives, but who had been regular drinkers of these liquors. The liver is diseased in a similar manner from the like cause.—From "What Shall We Drink?" in the April number of Lippincott's Magazine.

HOW DAN DONNELLY FOUND A RASON FOR DRINKING.—"The dirty blagard! He brought the wife on me, and me innocent as the child unborn. He came in here one day, with a grate scrape, for Dan affects 'quality manners,' he having seen the world.

"'Your riverence,' says he, presenting a great horn, 'this is a quare bottle.'

"'Ye bosthoon,' says I, 'it's an owld antediluvian cow's horn, judging by the size. And what may be in it, Dan?'

"'Faix, I'm tould it's potheen,' says he, 'but meself has not drawn the cork. It's a grate grief I can't. I'm on me oath agin it, Father Mick. I thought you'd like to see a horn bottle, the first ever I seen, an' I brought it over.'

"'It's a grate horn entirely, and you may lave it, Dan,' said I, jestingly, 'for I have a reverence for old things. You are sworn against the contents; I am not.'

"'I'd be proud to lave it wid yer riverence, an' tin times the like of it, but I daren't,' said Dan, 'for it's not all out mine.'

"Well, I returned the horn, and without draming the laste harm, I said, 'It's a curiosity, Dan, and may the drink in it do you good! Mind ye don't make a beast of yourself. Drink is for man's health and comfort, and not to destroy him body and soul and make a fool and rogue of him to boot, which is worse in the world's eye than infidelity. It is necessary to keep on a level with heaven and earth both, Dan. Take pattern by me.'

"'I would wid all my bones,' returned Dan, 'but I'd like to taste the dhrink would overcome you, Father Mick; I'm in belief they've left off distillin' it.'

"The unhanged vagabond! He thought he paid me a compliment. It's little they know I am often drinking the pure spring water when they're content it's whisky. The women know the secret and keep it; my blessing on them for it!

"But I was a deluded priest that day, though there is satisfaction in knowing I was not the first had the feather drawn over his eyes.

"On the word of a gentleman and priest, believe it, Dan's ugly, red-headed, weasel-eyed, vixen old wife—the harridan! she was ten years older than Dan—was here next morning by screech of day, hanging about my premises like an unclean spirit, waiting till she could pounce on me out of reach and hearing of old Peggy: and that same she succeeded in. I tell you I had not the least idea of the hag's intentions, so I fell victim to her quite asy and natural—bad luck to her that I should say so! for in my heart I wish ill to no human soul.

"'Priest,' said she, 'why did ye giv Dan lave to dhrink, and him sworn agin it, an' you knowin' it?'

"'I didn't,' said I.

"'Ye did,' said she, 'an' he's rowling dhrunk now, an' says you gev it him.'

"'Give him "rowling drunk," Biddy!' said I, joking on her trip of the tongue, for she was beginning to look like Nell Cafferty's cat, the biggest divil between the two ends of Ireland, no dog daring to go within a mile of her—'gave him "rolling drunk," Biddy?' said I, in my pleasantest way, thinking to soothe her; 'how could I give him "rowling drunk," Biddy, mo caroibhin eno? If he's "rowling drunk," it's the whisky he got the distemper from, the perjured sinner!'

"A female fury makes me nervous, throws me out altogether.

"'Och,' says she, 'but yer nate at a joke, mighty nate; it does one's heart and sowl good to hear you: I feel the betther already. My sarvis to ye! I see yer gilty, an' Holy Mary help me, the bishop shall hear of yer thricks.'

"And away she went across the bog, laving me bothered. It came out that Dan's oath went to this—that he would not touch drink again till it was put into his hand by the priest; and sure I did put it into the fellow's hand, though innocent of the interpretation he put on it.

"So it was Dan found a rason for drinking, the nefarious rascal! But I settled with him for his perjury and deceit of me. Biddy was on her knees to me ever after."

The priest's nectar was fine, the reason for drinking it good, and the story gave additional zest. Dan was a model of his kind—"Dan of the horn" they call him to this day. —From "Wild Ireland," in the April number of Lippincott's Magazine.

CITY ORDINANCES.

COMMON COUNCIL OF PHILADELPHI
CLERK'S OFFICE,
PHILADELPHIA, March 17, 1871.

In accordance with a Resolution adopted by the Common Council of the city of Philadelphia on Thursday, the sixteenth day of March, 1871, the annexed bill, entitled, "An ordinance creating a loan for the extension of the Water Works," is hereby published for public information.
JOHN ECKSTEIN,
Clerk of Common Council.

AN ORDINANCE CREATING A LOAN FOR THE EXTENSIOF OF THE WATER WORKS.

Section 1. The Select and Common Councils of the city of Philadelphia do ordain, That the Mayor of Philadelphia be and he is hereby authorized to borrow at not less than par, on the credit of the city, two million one hundred and twenty-two thousand dollars for the further extension of the Water Works. For which interest not to exceed the rate of six per cent. per annum, shall be paid half-yearly, on the first days of January and July, at the office of the City Treasurer.

The principal of said loan shall be payable and paid at the expiration of thirty years from the date of the same, and not before without the consent of the holders thereof; and the certificates therefor, in the usual form of the certificates of city loan, shall be issued in such amounts as the lenders may require, but not for any fractional part of one hundred dollars, or, if required, in amounts of five hundred or one thousand dollars; and it shall be expressed in said certificates that the loan therein mentioned and the interest thereof are payable free from all taxes.

Section 2. Whenever any loan shall be made by virtue thereof, there shall be by force of this ordinance annually appropriated out of the income of the corporate estates, and from the sum raised by taxation, a sum sufficient to pay the interest on said certificates; and the further sum of three-tenths of one per centum on the par value of such certificates so issued shall be appropriated quarterly out of said income and taxes to a sinking fund, which fund and its accumulations are hereby especially pledged for the redemption and payment of said certificates.

RESOLUTION

Resolved, That the Clerk of Common Council be authorized to publish in two daily newspapers of this city daily for four weeks the ordinance presented to Common Council on Thursday, March 16, 1871, entitled "An ordinance creating a loan for the extension of the Water Works." And the said Clerk, at the stated meeting of Councils after said publication, shall present to this Council one of each of said newspapers for every day in which the same shall have been made. 3 17 24t

Evening Telegraph

SATURDAY, MARCH 18, 1871.

RELIEF OF FRENCH SUFFERERS.

A CABLE telegram from Paris says that "the members of the National Guard have been invited to call at the American Legation to receive each five francs in money or a pound of tobacco, from subscriptions made in America for the relief of the sufferers in France." It was generally supposed in this country that starving stomachs and not empty tobacco-pipes were to be filled by the money collected from American citizens. The wisdom of giving any portion of the funds thus raised to the National Guard of Paris may well be questioned. The French Government will not permit them to suffer serious personal privations; or, at the worst, their position is such that so long as food can be obtained in any quarter they will be certain of receiving a fair share of it. In days of piping peace the soldiers who parade through a capital are about the last objects that require charitable assistance from a foreign country; and the proposition to give them their choice between a five franc piece and a pound of tobacco indicates either that there are no real wants to be relieved, or that those who preside over the distribution of the American funds in Paris are wofully deficient in charity and common sense. That many thousands of homeless wanderers are suffering fearfully in France, however, cannot be doubted; and while the credit of contributing the means of relief remains with the American subscribers to the French Relief Fund, the shame of misappropriating it rests exclusively with those who have undertaken the distribution of American subscriptions.

AN APOLOGY TO MR. QUIGLEY.

IN the House of Representatives yesterday, Mr. Quigley corrected THE EVENING TELEGRAPH by denying that he was in favor of the commission bills, and we accordingly make haste to correct our mistake, and to make all proper apologies. Mr. Quigley's name did not appear among those of the members of the Committee on Municipal Corporations who signed Mr. Johnston's report, and, under all the peculiar circumstances of the case, we thought we were justified in putting him down among the advocates of the commission bills. We regret exceedingly that Mr. Quigley was misrepresented in this manner in our columns, for the Philadelphia members of the Legislature who have favored the commission bills have exposed themselves to the execration and hatred of their fellow-citizens, and have incurred a disgrace that will cling to them for life. That it should have been possible for such an error to occur, however, is more the fault of the members of the Legislature than of the newspapers; for those of our law-makers who have been opposed to the commission outrage have been profoundly silent on the subject, and it has been impossible for the alarmed and indignant people of Philadelphia to tell who were their friends and who their enemies. The signatures to Mr. Johnston's report gave the first authoritative declaration that any of the members of the Legislature were opposed to the bills, and it was truly unfortunate for Mr. Quigley that his name did not appear. As Mr. Quigley has now declared openly that he is not in favor of the bills, it is to be hoped that he will distinguish himself by an open and persistent antagonism to them in case any attempt is made to revive them in any shape. The people of Philadelphia are not at all satisfied that the danger is passed, or that a desperate attempt will not yet be made to create the commissions, and we are far from sharing the confidence of our Democratic contemporary the Age, that the Democratic Senate will prove more virtuous than the Republican House. The Democrats have never yet in the history of the State or nation distinguished themselves by their eagerness to keep their fingers out of the public treasury, and with the example of the nominally Democratic government of New York before our eyes, our hopes that we will be able to escape out of our present dilemma by Democratic assistance are somewhat limited. Mr. Quigley, therefore, and all the members of the Legislature who have any virtue left, can deserve the confidence and regard of the public at large by sounding the alarm in case any attempt is made to revive the commission scheme in any shape whatever, and by opposing it openly, boldly, and vigorously in committee and on the floor of the House or Senate.

THE recent official reports of the condition and prospects of Alaska indicate that that territory has proved a white elephant of stupendous proportions. The fur trade is decreasing rapidly, and scarcely amounts in a year to the daily sales of furs in the winter season in Philadelphia; the reported mines have no veritable existence; the timber is inferior to that of Washington and Oregon; the agricultural products are of no account, and even the ice too porous to be worth exporting. The inhabitants are depraved, idle, or hostile; and the great want of the country is said to be a gunboat to keep the Indians in order and a strong garrison at Sitka. The best use that Alaska can be put to is its conversion into a place of banishment for the weak, venal, and foolish politicians of the United States. If a few thousand of these miscreants could be sent and kept there, the investment might still be made to pay.

THE resignation of Collector Moore has excited a flutter among the politicians, and speculations are rife as to the appointment of his successor. It is to be hoped that the President will take pains to select a really able and efficient man to take the place of Mr. Moore, and that he will not allow himself to be influenced too much one way or the other by interested individuals who have axes to grind. The public benefit and not the wishes of mere trading politicians should be consulted in a matter of this kind. The two gentlemen who are most prominently named for the collectorship are E. Harper Jeffries, Esq., of the Commercial Exchange, and D. P. Southworth, Esq., ex-Supervisor of Internal Revenue. Mr. Jeffries is endorsed by the Commercial Exchange, and Mr. Southworth by the members of Congress. Either of them would make an efficient officer, and would give satisfaction both to the merchants of Philadelphia and to the Government.

OBITUARY.

Robert Chambers.

Robert Chambers, of the well-known Edinburgh publishing firm of William & Robert Chambers, died yesterday at Edinburgh. He was born in 1802, at Peebles, and was two years younger than his brother William. His parents were respectable, and he received an excellent common school education in his native town. Pecuniary reverses obliged his parents to remove to Edinburg, and Robert and William were, to a great extent, thrown upon their own resources. Their fondness for reading induced them to select the business of bookselling, and William served an apprenticeship from 1814 to 1819, when he started on his own account in a small way with only a few shillings capital. Robert began business in 1818, and having strong literary tastes, he tried his hand at authorship by starting a small periodical called the Kaleidoscope, which William set up in type and printed himself. This publication was short-lived, and in 1823 Robert began to write a work which he hoped would prove popular. This was entitled "Illustrations of the Author of Waverley," and referred to the supposed original characters of the novelist. So soon as this work was published he began to collect materials for his "Traditions of Edinburgh," which appeared in 1824, and passed through several editions. In 1826 Robert published the "Popular Rhymes of Scotland," and in 1827, "Pictures of Scotland." A short time after he issued five volumes of histories of "The Scottish Rebellion," two of a "Life of James I," and three of "Scottish Ballads and Songs." In 1835 he completed in four volumes his "Biographical Dictionary of Eminent Scotchmen." In the meantime William carried on an independent business as author and publisher until 1829, when the brothers united in the production of a "Gazetteer of Scotland," which appeared in 1832. Robert also wrote a "History of Scotland for Juvenile Readers." In 1832 Chambers' Journal was projected by the elder brother for the purpose of "supplying intellectual food of the best kind, in such a form and at such a price as to suit the convenience of every man in the British dominions." The success of Chambers' Journal was immense, and it soon obtained a circulation of fifty thousand, and subsequently it rose much higher. The success of this publication induced the brothers to join in partnership. In 1834 they commenced the publication of "Information for the People," which was followed by the "Cyclopedia of English Literature," "The People's Edition of Standard English Works," "The Educational Course," two series of "Tracts" and "Papers for the People." Robert, although he had not received any regular scientific education, displayed from early life a strong tendency to such studies, and he produced several geological works. His last historical work was "The Domestic Annals of Scotland." He also edited the "Book of Days," which was completed in 1863, and he also aided greatly in the preparation of "Chambers' Encyclopedia." The establishment of the Messrs. Chambers in Edinburgh is one of the sights of the city. Nearly two hundred hands are employed in it.

A VALUABLE INVENTION.—Among the many devices of fraud and villainy, that of altering checks, drafts, bonds, etc., to larger amounts than intended by those issuing them, has lately become popular with rogues and swindlers, who, by removing the figures and the words denoting the amount for which the paper was drawn, and writing in the amount desired, have succeeded in defrauding bankers, merchants, and others of very large sums of money. To prevent the success of this sort of fraud, many shrewd intellects have devoted their attention, and, at last, an invention has been perfected which is signally effectual. We have been shown an instrument styled the "check puncturer," by Mr. George W. Holmes, Jr., of this city, by which the figures and words expressing the amount of money named therein can be instantly punctured so as to prevent a second writing of words or figures in their places, leaving the original writing perfectly intact. This invention, which is very simple and cheap, has been endorsed by all the principal banks and bankers and many of the merchants of this city, as may be seen by reference to our advertising columns.

ELEGANT FURNITURE.—Mr. T. A. McClelland, auctioneer, No. 1210 Chesnut street, asks special attention to his public sale on Monday, at 10½ A. M., at the auction rooms. FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Despatch to the Evening Telegraph.

WASHINGTON, March 16.

The Senate Elections Committee to-day has under consideration the cases of Blodgett, of Georgia, Hamilton, of Texas, and Goldthwaite, of Alabama. They decided to admit Hamilton, but postponed the other cases until Monday.

The Meridian, Miss., Outrage.

A despatch was received here to-day from Governor Alcorn, of Mississippi, by the Alabama delegation, in which he states that a thorough examination is being made concerning the outrage at Meridian; that there is some trouble along the frontier bordering on the State of Alabama, but with these exceptions affairs in the State are generally peaceful, and that he feels himself fully competent to preserve order throughout the State.

Strong appeals are being made to Senators to allow the bill which passed the House respecting the to pass the Senate. The Finance Committee will not permit these measures to be acted on at the present session. Senator Trumbull and others, if the session is extended, will endeavor to secure the passage of both bills.

Minister Schenck,

having made application for his pay as Minister to England, discovered that he could not draw any except one month's pay. It appears that the law explicitly states that no Minister or Consul shall be allowed to draw more than one month's pay before going to his place of duty. Mr. Schenck will, therefore, be compelled to forego his pay as Minister until he arrives in England.

Senator Sherman

has given notice that he will press his resolution, agreed to in caucus, relative to the Judiciary Committee reporting a bill for the

in the South. The resolution is now before the Senate. It is believed it will give rise to considerable debate. Senator Sherman will lead off in the debate, giving his views of the condition of affairs in the South.

Southern Outrages.

The Southern Democratic members of the House held a caucus to-day, and resolved to issue an address to their constituents advising that every facility be afforded the joint committee for ascertaining the truth concerning the violations of law in that section of the country.

FROM THE STATE.

Daring Outrage and Robbery in Indiana.

PITTSBURG, March 18.—At 11 o'clock last night, as the telegraph operator at Indiana, Pa., was entering his office, which is in the same room with the First National Bank, he was attacked by four men with blackened faces, knocked down, dragged into the bank, gagged, and handcuffed. One of the party sat by him with a revolver while the others went to work to break open the safe.

Shortly afterwards they became frightened and left, getting no money, excepting eighty dollars from the operator, who was found this morning badly injured. One of the men is described as a large, muscular Irishman. The operator is unable to describe the others.

FROM THE WEST.

The Northern Pacific Railroad.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 18.—Track-laying has commenced on the Northern Pacific Railroad, west of Brainerd. The bridge is completed at that point and trains run over it. Five hundred barrels of flour have been shipped from this city marked "Aid for France." E. A. Graff, a prominent citizen of Minnesota, died in this city yesterday.

FROM THE DOMINION.

The Canadian Ministry.

OTTAWA, March 18.—The ministry stated in both houses last night they had received intelligence from Winnipeg to the 1st of March. The Dominion elections were proceeding quietly. There were no disturbances, as reported in American newspapers. The small-pox is disappearing in the Saskatchawan district.

FROM NEW ENGLAND.

Fatal Accident in Boston.

BOSTON, March 18.—By the fall of a scaffold at Jamaica Plains yesterday, Judson Lord was killed, and two other men had limbs broken, while a fourth man was severely bruised.

CONGRESS.

FORTY-SECOND TERM—FIRST SESSION.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Mr. Bayard moved to reconsider the vote on the passage of the bill defining a gross of matches. He had received despatches from large match manufacturers to the effect that the bill would work most injuriously to their interests. The motion was agreed to, and an order made for the recall of the bill from the House.

The Senate then took up the business of the morning hour. Mr. Sherman's resolution alleging the subversion by armed, disguised, and lawless men, mainly soldiers of the late Rebel armies, of all civil authority in a large party of the late insurrectionary States; that persons and property are unsafe, the rights of citizens denied, and the courts powerless by organized perjury to punish crime, and instructing the Judiciary Committee to report remedial legislation.

Mr. Sherman said every word contained in the resolution was strictly true; and that in eleven Southern States the public condition was one of unparalleled horror and anarchy.

Mr. Lewis said the condition of his State (Virginia) was as peaceful and orderly as that of any State in the Union. He denied that any Ku klux organizations existed there.

Mr. Sherman replied that he would substantiate the assertions of the resolution from the testimony taken before the select committee of investigation. He proceeded to show that the result of the operations of the Ku-klux terrorism and intimidating colored men, was disgraceful to civilization and most startling. These men being mainly soldiers of the late Rebel armies had virtually taken up arms in violation of the very liberal terms accorded them by General Grant upon their surrender. After reading from the Ku-klux oath to show that the objects of the organization were political, to prevent colored men and others from exercising their political rights, and that by it the members were bound to murder, rob, and plunder under the discipline prescribed by their former Rebel leaders, Mr. Sherman said he did not know of any organization in history which for atrocity could compare with this. The Thugs of India were a secret organization, sworn to rob and plunder, but they did not conceal themselves. These men committed their crimes at night, and carried terror wherever they went. Every member of the Senate would admit that an organization so revolting to humanity should be put down. Their number in North Carolina had been stated at forty thousand, but was certainly ten thousand.

Any reader of the testimony would suppose it much larger. In Rockingham county, in that State, sixty-two of these outrages had been committed. In one case a magistrate of a town in that county had testified to the hanging of a colored preacher at a late hour of the night by seventy-five armed and disguised men on horseback. The dangling body of the victim was found suspended from a tree in front of the court-house with a paper pinned upon it on which were the words, "Beware, ye guilty, both black and white. K. K. K." A poor half idiot negro, who had seen some of these men, was drowned several days afterwards to prevent their detection by him. Thirty-eight similar cases had been shown to have occurred in the same vicinity.

OUR RELIGIOUS COLUMN.

LOOKING FOR PEARLS—AN ORIENTAL LEGEND.

The Master came one evening to the gate
Of a far city; it was growing late,
And sending his disciples to buy food,
He wandered forth intent on doing good,
As was his wont. And in the market-place
He saw a crowd, close gathered in one space,
Gazing with eager eyes upon the ground.
Jesus drew nearer, and thereon He found
A noisome creature, a bedraggled wreck—
A dead dog with a halter round his neck.
And those who stood by mocked the object there,
And one said, scoffing, "It pollutes the air!"
Another jeering, asked, "How long to-night
Shall such a miscreant cur offend our sight?"
"Look at his torn side," sneered a Jewish wit,
"You could not even cut a shoe from it,"
And turned away. "Behold his ears that bleed,"
A fourth chimed in, "an unclean wretch indeed!"
"He hath been hanged for thieving," they all cried
And spurned the loathsome beast from side to side.
Then Jesus, standing by them in the street,
Looked at the poor spent creature at his feet,
And, bending o'er him, spake unto the men;
"Pearls are not whiter than his teeth." And then
The people at each other gazed, asking,
"Who is this stranger pitying the evil thing?"
Then one exclaimed, with awe-abated breath,
"This surely is the Man of Nazareth;
This must be Jesus, for none else but He Something to praise in a dead dog could see!"
And being ashamed, each scoffer bowed his head,
And from the sight of Jesus turned and fled.

HAPPINESS IN DEATH.

The Rev. William Jay, in a sermon on the requisites for a happy death, says:—

"It requires that you should obtain and preserve the evidences of pardon; without these you cannot be fearless and tranquil in the near views of eternity, since 'after death is the judgment.' It requires you to keep a conscience void of offense towards God and towards man. Is he in a condition to die who has lived in the practice of some known sin, and in the omission of some known duty? Is he in a condition to die who has worn the mask of hypocrisy, which will now drop off and expose him in his true character? Is he in a condition to die who, by artifice, unfair dealing, grinding the faces of the poor, has amassed gain which will dishonor him if restored, and damn him if retained? It requires us to live in the exercise of brotherly kindness and charity. Of all we do for Him, nothing pleases Him more than this; this we know He will acknowledge in the day of judgment, and why not in the day of death? 'Blessed is he that considereth the poor; the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble.' 'The Lord will strengthen him upon the bed of languishing; Thou wilt make all his bed in his sickness.' Many are praying for him; the widows and the fatherless cry, and their cry entereth 'the ears of the Lord of Sabbath.'

"It requires an attention to religion in your families. I pity that father who will be surrounded, when he dies, with children whose minds he never informed, whose dispositions he never curbed, whose manners he never guarded; who sees one an infidel, another a profligate, and all irreligious. I know that you are not answerable for the conversion of your offspring, but you are responsible for the use of all proper means. And if these have been neglected, you will plant your dying pillow with thorns; whereas, if you have seriously and perseveringly attended to them, your dying repose shall not be disturbed by want of success; but you shall be able to say, 'Although my house be not so with God, yet hath he made me an everlasting covenant, ordered in all things and sure; for this is all my salvation and all my desire, although he make it not to grow.'

"Through the mercy of God, and the grace of His dear Son, may we be enabled to live in the discharge of duty, that our 'dying beds shall feel soft as downy pillows are.' Amen."

SUMMARY OF CHURCH NEWS.

EPISCOPAL.

—Joseph A. Dugdale, a preacher among the Hicksite (Unitarian) Friends, whose winning smile has been the "open sesame" which, all through his long and useful life, has admitted him to places usually inaccessible, has been invited, recently, to preach in the Episcopal church at Mount Pleasant, Iowa. The Rev. Dr. Cooper, the rector, after Friend Dugdale closed, made an appeal "in behalf of the broadest liberality and the utmost toleration among Christian denominations."

—The next General Convention of the Episcopal Church will be memorialized concerning the repeal of the Church canons forbidding the officiating of ministers of other denominations in Episcopal pulpits, and requiring the use of the Book of Common Prayer before all sermons and lectures. The "Muhlenburg Memorial" will also be presented, praying for liberty on the part of ministers to omit "such words, expressions, or passages" in the service as may, in his judgment, contradict his ordination vow "to teach nothing as necessary to salvation but that which he is persuaded may be concluded and proved by Scripture."

—At Baltimore, Md., the United Presbyterian Church of which the Rev. William Bruce is pastor, has just completed the first year of an experiment to abolish all pew rents, and depend entirely upon weekly contributions for the means of meeting current expenses. The trial year has resulted well, and a surplus of about two hundred dollars is in the treasury.

—So decided in his temperance opinions is the Rev. Mr. Cooper, Presbyterian pastor of McConnellsville, Pa., that when the subscription books for his support were opened he instructed the deacons as follows:—To receive no money on subscriptions from families any part of whose income is derived from the sale of intoxicating liquors; to mark all such subscriptions as paid, and charge the same to his account; and if the amount allowed him as salary could not be raised from other sources, the salary might be reduced just as much as the subscriptions from these doubtful sources amounted to.

—The First Church, Memphis, on the first Sabbath of the new year, received twenty-nine persons on profession of their faith, and nine by letter.

—The Norfolk Journal mentions that on a late Sabbath thirty-eight persons were received as members of the Presbyterian church of Norfolk, Va., Dr. Armstrong's. A few only of these were upon dismission from other churches.

—There is a rumor that a church of the Presbyterian Church South will shortly be formed in New York, and Dr. Palmer, of New Orleans, called to the pastorate.

—The Associate Reformed Presbyterian explains the decline in that Church by the following statement:—"The want of increase since 1852 has been owing to two causes, viz.: deaths, and a change of relation—principally the latter. Since 1842, 17 of our ministers have died. During the same period 26 have left us to join other churches; 22 have connected with the Old School Presbyterians, and 4 have joined the United Presbyterians North."

—The Northwestern Seminary at Chicago has thirty-eight students, one of whom received his collegiate education in Norway, one in the Netherlands, two in Ireland, three in Canada, and the remainder in above twenty different institutions in this country.

CONGREGATIONAL.

—Mr. Frederick Marquand, of Southport, Ct., has offered to erect, at his own expense, a chapel for the Yale Theological School. The estimated cost is not far from $22,000. The building will be large enough for the religious meetings of the college and for use for special lectures. It is to be completed in September.

—The Female Cent Society of New Hampshire is a valuable auxiliary to home missionary enterprises. During the sixty-five years of its existence it has collected $74,829. It has a memorial fund of $3000. In 1805, its first year, $500 was raised; in 1870, $2500—all by contributions of one cent a week from each of its members.

—A conference of the Congregational churches of New York and Brooklyn was held at the Church of the Pilgrims, in Brooklyn, Wednesday, March 8. The question, "What is the best means of promoting the highest spirituality among Christians?" was discussed by the Rev. Mr. Beecher, Rev. Dr. Palmer, Rev. Messrs. Janes, Brown, and Everest, and Rev. Dr. Thompson.

—The missionary brig Morning Star, which recently sailed from Boston for the South Sea Islands, meeting rough weather, has been compelled to return from Provincetown to Boston and reload, there being too much ballast on board.

—The receipts of the American Board for January were $34,489, which is a falling off of $17,905 from those of the same month last year; and for the six months ending January 31, the receipts show a falling off of $17,927.

—The Rev. Jacob Totka, a minister of the German Reformed Church, has been received as a candidate for orders in Minnesota, and the Rev. Joseph T. Hillmar, late pastor of the Roman Catholic congregations at St. Anthony and Minneapolis, Minnesota, has been received into the communion of the Episcopal Church.

—Bishop Coxe, of Buffalo, has just opened a new Episcopal Church in Tonawanda, N. Y. It cost about $4500, nearly the whole of which sum was donated by Mr. Sherman, of Avon.

—Bishop Henry Whitehouse, of the Episcopal Diocese of Illinois, has lately given ordination to a young Swede, Rev. Mr. Almqvist, from Gotheborg, Sweden. He is now laboring in Michigan. The efforts of this Church to absorb Scandinavian Lutherans have signally failed of late.

BAPTIST.

—A new Baptist church was dedicated on March 8 at Hunter's Point, the new city which has grown up within a few years at the eastern terminus of the Long Island Railroad. The sermon was by the Rev. Dr. Everts, of Chicago. The congregation was organized in 1869, with nine members. In building the church, which cost $29,500, it was largely aided by Mr. Horace Waters; the wife of Mr. Waters furnished the baptistery.

—Emanuel Baptist church, at Albany, has just been completed. It takes the place of Pearl street Baptist church, where Dr. B. T. Welch had his long and fruitful ministry, and is now under the care of Rev. Dr. Bridgman. It is situated on State street, above the new Capitol. It will afford sittings for one thousand persons.

—The new Michigan avenue Baptist church, Chicago, has adopted a plan for renting its sittings which presents some good features. Any number of sittings may be rented, from a single sitting to a whole pew, for any period, however short, at a uniform rate throughout the house of $1·25 for each sitting. The preference in the choice of pews is given to those who will pay the rents of the greatest number of seats. The surplus from such extra rentals is to be laid aside to assist those who cannot pay a full rental.

—A correspondent of the Watchman and Reflector has thought what a beneficent and fruitful mission a Christian minister would accomplish if he could go with supplies to the different missionary stations in France, distribute aid to the suffering, comfort them in their affliction, and preach the Gospel of salvation. He could reach at the same time thousands of Romanists, who would welcome such a man as an angel from heaven. He thinks that the French people, believing that their sufferings are a chastisement from the Almighty, will be in a favorable mood to receive such teachings.

PRESBYTERIAN.

—The Committees of the Presbyterian and United Presbyterian Churches, appointed to consider the question of a union of the two branches, met in Pittsburg during the week, and organized by the election of the Rev. Dr. Dickson, of New York, chairman, and of the Rev. W. J. Reid, of Pittsburg, secretary.

—The Occident gives a favorable report of the Presbyterian mission to the Chinese in California. It was strengthened by the accession of the Rev. I. M. Condit in June. Having labored at a similar work in Canton, he was able at once to enter into all the work of the mission, as a preacher to the Chinese in their own language. The various departments of the work have been prosecuted during the past as in former years, except that, owing to the great falling off in the immigration, there has been less call for the visiting and preaching to the newly arrived strangers which has heretofore been a prominent feature of the work. During the year two of the members of the church returned to China, where they are employed as colporteurs a portion of the time, the other portion being devoted to study, with a view to preparation for greater usefulness.

—The subscriptions to the Memorial Fund thus far are estimated at $4,000,000, of which $800,000 to $900,000 have been subscribed to educational institutions, about $75,000 being to enterprises on the foreign mission field; above $1,000,000 are for new churches, $1,000,000 to the payment of church debts, and $1,000,000 for parsonages, repairs, hospitals, and publication buildings. The Rev. Gardner Spring, now eighty-six years old, has recently expressed to the chairman of the Memorial Committee his joy in view of the successful progress of the work.

—F. W. Marquand, Esq., who offers $25,000 for the new chapel of Yale Theological Seminary, is a deacon in the Congregational Church at Southport, Connecticut, and this is but one of his many noble deeds.

—The Presbyterian Church in Plover, Wisconsin, has unanimously voted itself Congregational.

METHODIST.

—The Methodists of Great Britain are divided into numerous sects. The original body call themselves "Wesleyans." "The Methodist New Connection" differ from them on questions of government, and the Primitive Methodists on evangelistic measures. Beside these there are the Methodist Association and the "United Methodist Free Churches."

—The Wesleyan missionaries in South Africa find a new field of labor among the multitudes who are flocking to the newly discovered diamond-mines on the banks of the River Vaal.

—Drew Seminary, Madison, N. J., has received a bequest of $100,000 from the late Abel Minard, of Morristown, to aid in giving a ministerial education to indigent young women.

—A remarkable work is reported in progress in the Methodist Mission at Lucknow, India. About 50 conversions have taken place in two weeks, about half of them being natives.

—The endowment of $400,000 for the proposed Syracuse University has been subscribed. The city is to add $100,000 more, and then there will be nothing in the way of a speedy commencement of the work, and its steady advancement to completion.

—The death of James Osgood Andrew, senior Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, took place at Mobile on the 2d inst.

LUTHERAN.

—The Rev. Dr. Luther E. Albert asks the following pointed question in the Lutheran Observer:—

"Would it not be well to give up, at least for a season, our disputes about our differences, and lend our entire energy towards the extension of Christ's kingdom throughout the world? The diversions might be more favorable in the end for purity of doctrine, as well as practice, than those discussions which are frequently steeped more in our own spirit than in the spirit of Christ."

THE COAL TRADE.

The Union of the Bituminous and Anthracite Coal Miners—Further Trouble Ahead—The Bituminous Trade—The Coal Question in the Legislature—The Complete Tonnage for the Week, Etc.

At a meeting of representatives from the anthracite and bituminous coal fields of Pennsylvania, which commenced yesterday at Johnstown, a union of the trade associations of the two regions was effected. This end has been looked forward to for some time by the anthracite miners, but what the meaning of it is remains to be seen. If it be only an enlargement of the jurisdiction of the W. B. A., the bituminous miners uniting in fellowship under conditions, the public can afford to let the action go unrebuked for the present, awaiting the time when trouble is occasioned by the coalition to raise a cry against it. But if the union has been formed with the understanding that the immense bituminous coal fields are to be governed by the same corrupt form of government and under the same conditions as the anthracite, then it is now time to expose the move, and in every possible way hold up the members of both associations to the strongest condemnation of the people. From the rumors at present in circulation, the latter appears to be the end in view, and it is reported that the bituminous miners are soon to unite in a general strike for the purpose of producing a complete famine of all kinds of fuel. While this is not so frightful as it seems, because we cannot believe that any considerable number of the innumerable Western miners will be such fools as to cut off their own heads for the benefit of their far-distant and unknown Eastern brethren, for which act of self-sacrifice they would not receive the slightest return in any way, yet the bare possibility of such a thing demands the most earnest and decisive action. A mere peaceable combination of all miners for their own mutual interests can be borne, but when it comes to an immense union for the express sinister purpose of depriving the consumer entirely of a necessary of life as important as daily bread, or at the best, the doling out of the commodity in quantities and at prices most agreeable to those in the union, it should not be submitted to tamely. The anthracite union is bad enough, so bad, in fact, that its utter ruin would be the best thing that could happen, both to its members and to all who have ever had anything to do with it. But the formation of a more extended absolute monarchy, under our very eyes, and under the protection of a republican government, should be opposed at every point and in every possible way, by every man who has the best interests of the country at heart. If we let these things go on, the final act will be not only bloodshed, but bloody war itself, for questions concerning the necessaries of life affect every one, and when brought to an issue, those wronged will bear no trifling.

The bituminous trade is largely increasing by reason of the strike, and the leaders see that they can do nothing unless this also is stopped. In the event of their move being unsuccessful, the only effect of the lengthened suspension will be a great reduction in the demand and the annihilation of the natural rate of increase in the production for some time to come.

Many iron furnaces and manufactories are being altered so as to burn bituminous, though the anthracite is preferred, and this change once made will not be altered again in a hurry. Many other consumers, also, who can use either anthracite or bituminous, declare their intention of using only the less desirable of the two fuels until there is some assurance that the anthracite trade is on a much surer basis. The Pennsylvania Road is now bringing large quantities of bituminous direct from the Western fields, and semi-bituminous from Baltimore and Western Maryland is coming in fast by all the routes.

The Senate Committee of the State Legislature on the coal troubles is busy taking testimony in the matter. It is, however, only a prolongation of the trouble to submit it to such arbiters as these. They will not make a report for some time, and when they do, a bill, if any is prepared, will be delayed before being presented. Then it will be considered in the House, where it will probably be passed as a sort of sop to Cerberus, but when it comes to the Senate it will be surely killed and the miners will have all their trouble for nothing.

The principal railroad companies cannot be touched, at all events, because they have not transgressed their charters, and if they had they are by far the most powerful with legislature, men. As it is, they have fully as many of their agents in Harrisburg now as have the miners, so as to save unnecessary trouble. Both parties during the week have been busily besieging the members of the committee. Arbitration between the parties concerned themselves, without reference to any legal or judicial body, which is the shortest mode of settlement, hangs fire as yet from want of action by the miners.

The following is the complete summary of the trade for the past week as reported for the Pottsville Miners' Journal of to-day:—

The Journal remarks:—

"There are still at least 10,000 tons on hand at Port Richmond, and on all the cargoes shipped to New York to take advantage of the prices ruling there, the shippers, with only a single exception or so, have experienced heavy losses. From the highest point coal has fallen four dollars a ton, so we were informed by a dealer yesterday, and all are anxious to sell. Bituminous coal is also arriving in largely increased quantities from Baltimore, where the supply was nearly doubled over that of last year, within a couple of weeks. The Chesapeake and Ohio Canal is also navigable, and upwards of 40 cargoes have been shipped and vessels despatched to Alexandria to carry it to New York on its arrival.

Large contracts are being made for bituminous coal at low rates by manufacturers and steam lines for the season. In Boston they have ample coal to last until May, and if the trade is not more brisk than it is now, some of the dealers will have stocks to last until July. Throughout all the New England towns the supply of coal seems to be ample, as all are practising strict economy and diminishing the number of fires."

"For every week the resumption of the anthracite trade is delayed will the price of coal recede from 5 to 10 cents a ton. This will arise from the lessened consumption caused by the high prices prevailing in the markets for anthracite; from the economy practised in its use; and also from the stoppage of those works which use only anthracite and which, in the present state of trade, prefer stopping to going on and paying these high prices. Another reason is the increased consumption of bituminous coal, caused entirely by the uncertainty of procuring a regular supply of anthracite at fair prices, while contracts can be made for bituminous coal throughout the whole season at low rates; and if the duty should be removed on foreign coal, at extremely low rates."

SPIRITED.—A spiritualist who has been four days in his coffin awaiting burial, and who is, therefore, considered as good as any other dead-beat in his profession, will hold forth to-morrow evening for the benefit of the cause.

A "SUPE'S" TROUBLES.

One of the Roman Soldiers of the Stage in Durance Vile.

The ambitious young men who play the highly tragic role of "supe" in our theatres, upon whom is foisted all the drudgery of the stage, who occasionally with ill-fitting clothes that make their proverbial awkwardness all the more conspicuous, serve their mimic lords with diluted wines; or, armed cap-a-pie, with trembling limbs march in and out before the wonder-stricken audience, and eventually are stabbed under the armpits and die temporarily, have the misfortune of being the worst paid and hardest worked people who serve, in their way, to entertain the public.

Such an one was Charles Howard, eighteen years of age, who was employed as a supernumerary at the Arch Street Theatre. As his salary at this business was not sufficient to meet his wants, he became, on the 4th of February last, an errand boy in Adams' Express Company's office, No. 322 Chesnut street. But even with this addition to his weekly stipend, disappointed in not having enough, he resorted to pilfering. On the 9th of February he stole a gold watch valued at $100, which he carried to a pawnbroker's, presenting at the same time to the inquisitive Abraham this fictitious note:—

"This is to authorize the bearer to raise some money on this watch—about $30. I am sick, and in want of funds. I would be able to redeem it in May.
H. J. G. NEWMULLER,
"No. 723 South Tenth street."

This satisfied Abraham, and he handed over $25. Last night ex-Detective Levy, who had been engaged by the company, arrested Howard at the Arch Street Theatre. He was taken to Alderman Smith's, and having confessed to the theft and the writing of the note, was held in $1200 to answer.

THE MORTALITY OF THE CITY.—The number of deaths in the city for the week ending at noon to-day was 238, being an increase of 59 over those of last week and a decrease of 77 from the corresponding period of last year. Of these 135 were adults and 103 minors. 167 were people of the United States, and 59 were foreigners. 8 were people of color. 14 were from the country. The principal causes of death were:—Consumption of the lungs, 48; disease of the heart, 7; marasmus, 8; old age, 9; typhoid fever, 7; convulsions, 16; inflammation of the lungs, 22; debility, 15; scarlet fever, 9; congestion of the brain, 2.

SUPPOSED ABDUCTION OF A BOY.—Yesterday afternoon a man on Broad street, near Pearl, stopped a lad, aged thirteen years, named Thos. McElwee, and asked him would he like to go and work on a farm. The boy answered that he would like to go, and the man said he would take two boys if he could get them. McElwee then went with the man to Pearl street, where another boy was met named Robert Smith. After some conversation the man, accompanied by the two boys, proceeded to the Baltimore depot, when the man took Smith, who is twelve years of age, in the cars, saying he was going to take him to Delaware county, and he promised to return to the city next Monday and take McElwee. Young Smith's parents are in a very distressed condition over the kidnapping of their son.

The last has light hair, wears a blace Kossuth hat, light colored jacket, dark blue pants, and a red and white woollen shirt. His residence is at No. 1524 Pearl street.

RING 'EM IN.—The Washington Square property-owners advertise in a morning paper for all who wish the new public buildings made a complete botch, to "sign the petition to abolish the Public Buildings Commission, the only commission appointed by the Legislature on the importunity of self-constituted borers, with vast and vague powers and unlimited tenure of office. Sign to abolish this usurping commission, and thereby restore to the city her lost rights."

MASONIC LODGE CONSTITUTED.—The Right Worshipful Grand Lodge A. Y. M., Robert A. Lamberton, R. W. G. M., to-day at noon constituted Excelsior Lodge, No. 491, at the Masonic Temple on Chesnut street.

The usual ceremonies took place, accompanied by an orchestra under the direction o Brother George Ford. The officers are:—W. M., William R. Nichols; S. W., Isaac Muff J. W., John L. Benzon; Treasurer, Samuel Lee; Secretary, H. B. Lesinger.

DEATH FROM HEART DISEASE.—Mrs. Mary Bassett, the widow of the late Colonel Bassett, died suddenly this morning in Dr. Kilduff's drug store, at the southeast corner of Sixth and Shippen streets. She was returning from market, and was on the corner waiting for a car, when she suddenly reeled and fell. On being removed into the store, she died almost immediately. The cause of her death was heart disease and congestion of the lungs. The deceased was removed to her residence, No. 639 Washington avenue.

DISORDERLY FIREMEN.—James McCue and Jackson Mehang were arrested on Thursday afternoon last, while in the act of drawing across the Wire Bridge the carriage of the Union Hose Company, on Bridge street, West Philadelphia. Officer Kelly, of the Sixteenth district, made the arrest. The accused were placed under $500 bail each by Alderman Randall.

ROBBERY AND INCENDIARISM.—The residence of Mr. Ash, No. 417 Spruce street, was entered by thieves at 2 o'clock this morning and $50 worth of silverware carried off. Not content with this, the scoundrels kindled a fire under the kitchen stairs. The fire was discovered and extinguished by Officers Ford and McGowan, of the Third district. The loss will be about $50.

DISORDERLY HOUSE.—A house of ill fame kept by a Mrs. Dunn, on Fifth street, above Thompson, was invaded last night at 11 o'clock by Lieutenant Clarke, of the Tenth district, who took with him a squad of men and arrested six females, all of whom have been placed under bail by Alderman Burns.

THE CASE OF PERCY B. SPEAR.—Percy B. Spear was before Judge Cadwalader this morning on a motion for a new trial, which the Judge refused. Counsel for defendant then asked that sentence be deferred two weeks. This was refused also, but his Honor consented to hold the matter over one week.

BEAT A POLICEMAN.—Hugh McNeill, one of the "Gut" gang, attacked Policeman Rogers yesterday, at Twenty-third and Market streets. The officer arrested him, and Alderman Burns held him in $600 bail.

THE "STAR" COURSE OF LECTURES.—On Monday next, at the Academy of Music, M. A. Miner Griswold (the Fat Contributor) will discourse upon "Injin Meal." A very entertaining lecture may be expected.

FELL INTO THE RIVER.—Christopher Bloomhart fell off Willow street wharf into the Delaware at 2 o'clock this morning, but was rescued by Officers King and Milligan, of the Seventh district police.

WINDOW SMASHER.—Early this morning, Officer Murphy, of the Sixth district, came across James Bowen, who was drunk and engaged in smashing windows in Race street below Twenty-second.

DANGEROUS.—Washington Smith, who was shot on Wednesday night last, was in a very weak condition this morning, and his friends despair of his recovery.

A STRUGGLE WITH A RUFFIAN AND A RUFFIAN'S FAMILY.—Some three weeks ago, a notorious rough named George Young beat a drover at the West Philadelphia Drove Yard. A warrant for his arrest was issued, but so adroit was Young that he persistently eluded capture. Yesterday afternoon, Lieutenant Smith, of the Sixteenth district, had good reason to believe that Young was in the house of his mother, on Forty-first street, near the Pennsylvania Railroad, and he despatched Officers Hoopes, Cochrane, and McFarland to make the arrest. Officer Hoopes demanded admittance to the house, which was complied with by Young's mother. The other two policemen remained outside. As soon as Hoopes had entered the house the doors were locked, and Young and a brother, assisted by the mother, made an assault on him with clubs, etc. A tussle ensued, and the officer, being a powerful man, succeeded in keeping his assailants at bay. Finally, he drew his revolver, and frightened off the mother and brother, and then had a desperate struggle with Young. The two officers outside hearing the noise, broke in the doors, and rendered assistance in securing the ruffian, who fought like a tiger all the way to the station house. He had eventually to be tied with a rope. Alderman Randall sent him to prison in default of bail. It is said that he is a terror to the neighborhood, and the people would not grieve much if he never comes back again.

THE MILTON GOLD JEWELRY COMPANY have concluded to make their headquarters at CUTTER'S, No. 712 CHESNUT Street, the old and well-known Dollar Store.

THE MILTON

the Company have rented temporarily, for the purpose of introducing their goods in America.
They will OPEN

The Agent in America for the Milton Gold Jewelry will adopt
THE POPULAR
ONE DOLLAR PLAN
for the sale of these Goods, in order to bring them at once within the reach of all classes.

The Milton Gold Jewelry within the last year has had an immense sale in England and France, and is worn by the aristocracy and nobility of Europe, and is fast taking the place of Gold Jewelry that has heretofore been worn.

The goods are of the most elegant patterns, and of the very latest styles. Some of them are beautifully chased, engraved, enamelled, etc.

The assortment comprises all articles of Jewelry—Bracelets, Sets, Ladies' and Gents' Pins, Rings, Seals, Lockets, Pencils, Sleeve Buttons, Shirt Studs, Chains, etc.

THE MILTON GOLD JEWELRY
was sold for four years in London by many of the leading jewellers of that city for pure gold before the secret was discovered. These goods so closely resemble the genuine that the English Government enacted a law making it a criminal offense to sell this jewelry unless it was marked on the cards or tags "Milton Gold," so that purchasers could not be deceived in reference to what they were buying.

There is now a large amount of spurious English coin in circulation, made of the Milton Gold. The only means by which it can be detected is by weight, so it can be seen from this fact that the article must be an exact imitation.

We request our American friends to come and examine our goods. We feel satisfied that they will give the same satisfaction in the United States that they have given in England and France.

THE CHOICE OF
